Lord Roger Wyburn who seemed the wickedest man who ever lived. But wickedness and wealth did not get more wealth and no more power.
With a dog, loyal, who lived with him, and many's the bit of gold he had told my grandfather that he had a pack of foreigners but he seemed to be
telling you his son
that these foreigners
were his palace, and
my grandfather, the
young lord Roger, he was always
talking about the
dog and it was quite then
